Navigating Crises & Strategic Choices:

The game challenges players with unpredictable crises like the surprise arrival of the Black Death, where strategic decision-making and resource management play main roles. The "Push-OUR-luck" (no "Y") mechanic introduces an element of chance, as any player may draw the Black Death card during their turn, affecting all participants.

Once the crisis hits, quick and judicious decision-makers leads to the best rewards, but careful planning is crucial. An "Open Drafting" mechanic allows players to continue drawing resources or play opportunity cards.

Resources, comprising materials and money, are scarce, and the movement of workers and Power Cards between players is determined by bonuses, emphasizing the dynamic nature of the game. Effective resource management becomes a key strategy for success.

Life's multiple options are mirrored in the game through Power Cards, adding depth to the gameplay. An "Extended Open Drafting" mechanic presents nine distinct Power Cards, requiring players to strategically select the ones that will lead them to victory.
